Silent On T-H Act

President Talks With 4 In Cabinet About Steel Strike

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower conferred for an hour on the steel strike with four Cabinet officers today, but the White House refused to say whether a Taft-Hartley back-to-work injunction was imminent.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty told newsmen that Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell had reported on his conference in New York Thursday with President David J. McDonald and other top officers of the 500,000 striking steelworkers.

Others present today—including Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson, Atty. Gen. William P. Rogers and Secretary of Commerce Frederick Mueller — also gave Eisenhower reports on the dispute which has halted 87 per cent of the country's basic steel output for 87 days, Hagerty said.

"That's all I'm going to say now," Hagerty added.

The press secretary refused to state whether anything further could be expected from the White House today on whether—in answer to a reporter's question—the decision on invoking the 80-day cooling-off injunction machinery of the labor law "now is in the President's hands."

The Cabinet group and several others had breakfast with Eisenhower starting about 7:30 a. m., then went to Eisenhower's office for more talk.

Besides the Cabinet officers, the group included Hagerty; Chairman Raymond J. Saulnier of the president's Council of Economic Advisers; David Kendall, presidential legal counsel; and Wilton B. Persons, assistant to the President.

Eisenhower appeared to have only two open choices — a Taft-Hartley injunction to put the men back to work for a cooling-off and negotiating period, or some such move as asking the strikers and management to meet together at the White House.

Eisenhower had set down sort of an informal deadline before he left for his California vacation by saying he wanted to see some progress before he returned.

He came back Thursday. The strike was still deadlocked. Management and labor weren't talking to each other.

But there was no immediate White House action on his return. Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell met briefly in New York Thursday with union officials. His only comment was that the union leaders had brought him up to date on the strike situation.

Management says it has offered 15 cents per hour gains over the next two years. The union says it wants that much on an annual basis. Average hourly earnings before the strike began were $3.11.

Probers Eye Van Doren In TV Show Fix

Suspended By NBC, Consultant Denies Aid On Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — The big question today in Congress' own quiz of television quiz programs is:

Will Charles Van Doren, hero of millions of question-and-answer fans, come in and talk about charges the programs were rigged?

Van Doren, who won prominence as a $129,000 winner on the now-defunct show Twenty-One, volunteered Tuesday to repeat under oath his statement that he was never assisted in any form and has no knowledge of any assistance having been given to any other contestant.

But he made no reply to a pointed invitation that he appear before a House subcommittee investigating the quiz shows, and he later told a newsmen he had no comment whatsoever on the hearings, which go into an indefinite recess after today's session.

The National Broadcasting Co. suspended him Thursday from duties as a consultant and performer under a $50,000-a-year contract signed after his Twenty-One triumph. NBC said the suspension was effective "pending a final determination of the current congressional investigation of quiz programs."

Testimony of other Twenty-one contestants that the show was fixed did not accuse Van Doren of taking part in the fakery. But one contestant, Herbert Stempel, swore that he himself was coached and was told when ties with Van Doren would occur and was finally directed to lose to Van Doren.

One subcommittee member, Rep. Steven B. Derouian (R-Ny), said that if Van Doren does not appear voluntarily, he should be brought in under subpoena.

Driver In Bus Crash Cited

3 Children Among 5 Injured In Collision

Chester Leslie, 52, of Lisbon R. D. 3, faces a charge of reckless operation as a result of the crash behind his truck, a car and a Beaver Local school bus Thursday on Route 7, the State Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported today.

Leslie was cited to Mayor Lewis Stacy of Rogers as a result of the collision which injured a Youngstown youth and girl along with three Calcutta area youngsters on the bus.

Leslie's pottery firm truck struck the rear of a stopped car driven by Julius Anderson, 21, of Youngstown, who had halted for the bus which was picking up students about 3 miles south of the Williamsport area schools.

The loaded truck glanced off the rear of the auto, and hit the left front side of the bus operated by Henry C. Smith, 63, of Cannons Mills Rd.

Anderson and Miss Nancy Davis, 17, of Youngstown, a passenger in his car, are in "fair" condition today at City Hospital.

Treated at the hospital later were Benny Gamble, 14, of Smiths Ferry Rd., Jack Cornell, 15, of Calcutta, and Earl King Jr., 12, of R. D. 1. Gamble and Cornell received neck injuries, and King suffered a bruised elbow.

Another Beaver Local bus was involved in a minor mishap on the Fairmont R. D. 2 miles northeast of Elkton yesterday afternoon about 5:13.

A car driven by Thomas Czech of McKee Ave., East Liverpool, had gone into a ditch along the narrow road, and men were attempting to get it out.

The bus was driven by Franklin Sturgeon, 38, of Elkton who attempted to edge the vehicle past the car, but scraped the side of the bus on the left front door of the auto, causing minor damage, the patrol said.

Flaming Tragedy In New Jersey

Professor And 9 Coeds Perish In Fire When Truck Rams Bus

HOSPITALIZED AFTER BUS TRAGEDY. Injured when a tank truck crashed into the bus she was riding early this morning near North Brunswick, N. J., Josephine Brancolina, 18, of Trenton, N. J., is being prepared for a blood transfusion by doctors at St. Peter's Hospital in North Brunswick. Ten were burned to death in the crash. (UPI Telephoto)

Fiery Crash Injures 11 Other Girls

Disaster Occurs On Return Trip From New York Theater

NORTH BRUNSWICK, N. J. (AP)—A professor and nine Trenton State College coeds were burned to death today when a tank truck rammed into a bus taking them home from a theater party in New York.

Eleven girls and the truck driver were injured, some of them seriously burned, in the flaming disaster on rainswept Rt. 1.

The bus carried 40 students, a driver and Dr. Ernest Sixta, 48, professor of history at the college who was killed. A native of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, he was graduated in 1932 from the University of London where he had been a Fulbright scholar.

They were part of a two-bus caravan which was 25 miles from its destination when the bus stopped for a traffic light in the rain and fog.

The truck smashed into the back of the bus.

The gas tank at the rear of the bus exploded, probably killing Sixta immediately. He was seated in the rear with his wife.

The bus driver said the girls had tumbled out the front door and the rear emergency door which the driver wrested open.

The flames spread to the cab of the truck, where driver Roscoe Poe, 54, of Brooklyn, N.Y., was hanging out the door pinned by his ankle.

"Don't let me die this way," he screamed at approaching firemen Henry Reilly and Vincent Regan. The firemen worked with wrenches and crowbars to free him.

"Thank God you're here. Oh my God, thank God you're here. Help me, save me," he cried over and over.

Just after Poe was dragged away, the flames reached the huge tank trailer, which held no fuel but was full of fumes. The tank exploded and demolished the truck.

The scene of the fiery crash is opposite the farm of the Rutgers University Agriculture College, North Brunswick is 30 miles south-west of New York City.

The bus driver, Carmen Nini, 40, of Trenton, said he approached the traffic light at five miles an hour just before 1 a. m. When the truck hit, the impact knocked the bus into the next lane, he said. His gas tank blew up at once.

He said the terrified girls jammed up at the front door. He threw them outside, tossing others out as he could reach them. He worked his way through the flames to the rear emergency door and opened it, just as the truck's cargo tank exploded.

The bus burned for two hours. Poe was taken to a hospital in fair condition from burns. Nini suffered burns and shock.

Eleven students were hospitalized, four in critical condition.

Officials of Trenton State arrived a few hours after the crash to begin compiling a list of the dead. They said they would have to work mostly by process of elimination.

A total of 86 girls had gone to New York for the evening to see the Archibald MacLeish play "J.B." on Broadway. Two buses headed back for Trenton after the show.

Poe's truck was one of two owned by Paint & Oil Delivery Co. of Long Island City, N.Y. They were headed for Philadelphia to pick up cargoes of linseed oil.

The load has made it through a changing light. The second bus with Nini at the wheel slowed for the red signal in a steady downpour.

Behind Poe's truck was the second truck, driven by William McNeeley of Brooklyn.

Weirton Man Gets Prison In Jailer Assault

One More Defendant Awaits Action For Hancock Jailbreak

A 29-year-old Weirton man, charged in six indictments by the Hancock County Grand Jury Thursday was sentenced to a 1-5-year term in prison for one of the counts.

Robert T. Williams was sentenced to Moundsville State Penitentiary by Judge J. Harold Brennan for assaulting Deputy William King during an escape in early September from the eCounty Jail at New Cumberland.

Williams is scheduled to be sentenced next week on two other indictments — escaping from jail and auto theft.

He fled jail Sept. 11 with a companion, Walter Cox Steiner Jr., 19, of Weirton, but the pair spent only 39 hours of freedom before being nabbed by West Virginia State Police in Marshall County.

Steiner was sentenced to a 1-5-year term in prison this week for his part in the escape in which three other prisoners were involved.

Judge Brennan recommended that Williams undergo a medical examination on general conditions when he begins serving the term in Moundsville.

Williams also faces four indictments. (Turn to WEIRTON, Page 7)

Cold Snap Due With Low Of 37-42 Tonight

Real autumn weather is forecast for the East Liverpool area with a low of 37 to 42 degrees due tonight and continued cool Saturday.

No frost is expected locally but the northwest section of the state may get some, the Ohio forecaster said.

Temperatures were to start falling early this afternoon after a forenoon reading in the mid-70's.

Dam 8 at Newell had 73 degrees at 8 a. m. but the afternoon range will be in the mid-50's. The temperature remained virtually steady the past 24 hours with a high of 69 Thursday afternoon and an overnight low of 68.

Rain yesterday, with showers about midnight and a brief drizzle before 6 a. m. today, totaled 0.66 — inch of precipitation in the past 24 hours, the dam said. Some showers were forecast for the forenoon before the cold spell would develop.

The cool trend apparently will be brief as the long - range forecast indicated slightly warmer Sunday and Monday then cooler Tuesday and Wednesday. More showers, totaling 0.75-inch, are expected Monday through Tuesday, five upswing in industrials.

Conservative Party Wins In British Vote

Macmillan Leads Smashing Victory In House Of Commons

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's Conservative government returned to power today with virtually a doubled majority in the House of Commons. A landslide vote of confidence gave the Conservatives a third term and sent London stock prices soaring.

Nearly complete returns this afternoon showed the Conservatives had taken more than 20 seats from the Labor party in the 630-seat House of Commons.

The Macmillan party, the nearest approach in Britain to a free enterprise party, rode a wave of prosperity to victory. Dealers were besieged at the opening of the Stock Exchange by brokers wanting to buy shares in British companies. Shares of steel companies, safe for the time being at least from Labor threats at nationalization, led the parade.

A short time later the tabulation of votes put the Conservatives' majority in the House of Commons past the 100 mark. Macmillan's majority in the last house was 53 seats.

This count from 580 districts gave the Conservatives 340 seats, the Laborites 235, and the Liberals 5.

Returns from 87 per cent of the districts gave the Conservatives 49.7 per cent of the popular vote, about the same as in the 1955 election.

Labor's popular vote was down to 43.8 per cent from 46.3 in 1955. The Liberals' share of the vote in 1955, 2.7 per cent, was about doubled this time.

The popular vote in itself, as in the United States, does not determine the election. The result is on the basis of how many of the 630 districts a party can carry.

Wilson Hospitalized After Heart Attack

DETROIT (AP)—Former Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson is in a hospital here after suffering a heart attack on a Florida vacation.

The heart attack was described as mild. He entered Harper Hospital Tuesday.

Wilson, 69, who resigned as president of General Motors Corp. to become President Eisenhower's first defense secretary, has been in semiretirement since leaving the cabinet in 1957.

Conservatives Victory Rockets Stock Prices

LONDON (AP)—The Conservative election victory sent stock prices booming to near record heights on the London exchange today. Experts said they had never seen such a wave of buying.

Steel shares—rising by as much as 16 shillings ($2.24)—led a massive upswing in industrials.

Motorist Hurt In 'Repeat' Of 4-Way Mishap

Ownership Of Auto Checked By Police In Klondyke Crash

A Midland man was hurt and three autos and a truck were damaged in a spectacular crash early today in Klondyke that was so similar to another Harvey Ave. mishap 12 days ago it could have been a television "rerun."

And, pushing the law of probability to the ultimate, a Harvey Ave. man's auto that was smashed in the rear in the first crash came out of the "repeat" with heavy damage to the front end.

Police said the crash at 2:10 this morning on Harvey Ave. east of Putnam St. involved a 1955 two-door sedan driven by Rexall Elkins, 25, of 468 Midland Ave., Midland, and two parked autos and a truck.

A 1941 pickup truck owned by Wayne Adkins, 2113 Harvey Ave., and a 1955 sedan owned by Robert J. Wagner of Calcutta both were demolished and there was heavy damage to the left front of a 1952 auto owned by Harry L. Stewart, 2121 Harvey Ave., police said.

In a Sept. 28 collision at the same spot under similar circumstances, Stewart's parked car was smashed in the rear. He was scheduled to have the damage repaired today, but after the second collision he said his auto probably will be written off as a total loss.

Elkins is in "fair" condition at City Hospital with a laceration of

Bow To Court Order

Pressure By U.S. Ends Dock Tieup

NEW YORK (AP)—Atlantic and Gulf Coast ports sprang to life again today after an eight-day strike by 85,000 dock workers.

The Longshoremen bowed to federal pressure, applied from the top by President Eisenhower, and went back to work pending further efforts to work out new contracts with employers.

A federal court order issued here Thursday night brought an end to the eight-day walkout that stranded over 200 freighters in harbors along the Atlantic and Gulf coasts. Judge Irving R. Kaufman, acting under the Taft-Hartley Act at government request, issued a temporary 10-day restraining order.

The International Longshoremen's Assn. Complied with the order immediately, sending back-to-work telegrams to all its locals. A major task was to get an estimated 30 million dollars in perishable goods out of ships' holds and on the way to buyers.

Struck ports handled 81 per cent of the nation's dry cargo shipments. None of the big passenger liners were seriously hampered but thousands of tons of cargo were stranded and rail shipments to the two coasts were canceled to prevent pileups on the docks. Kaufman set a hearing for Oct. 19.

City Men Hurt In Street Fight

Knife, Hammer Used In E. 3rd St. Battle

East Liverpool police today were probing the facts behind a vicious street brawl early this morning outside an E. 3rd St. diner in which a hammer and a knife were welded, sending two men to City Hospital.

Police Capt. Robert H. Pyle, acting chief, said the principals in the fight were Gail Freeman, 23, of 257 Center St., who suffered knife wounds of the head, and William Tynes, 38, of 1087 Monaca St., who is in City Hospital with injuries he said were suffered when struck with a hammer.

Capt. Pyle said two or three others were involved in the fight outside the Buckeye Diner at E. 3rd and Washington Sts., but their identities are unknown at present. Freeman is in jail as a material 15 when the court will hear arguments on whether to order an injunction for 70 more days.

The Taft-Hartley Act provides for a return-to-work period of up to 80 days, during which new efforts can be made to reach agreement.

The U.S. attorney general's office went into court for the injunction Thursday at the direction of President Eisenhower, who had termed the strike a danger to the nation's welfare.

A spokesman for the New York Shipping Assn., representing waterfront employers from Maine to the Carolinas, said negotiations with the IILA would resume Oct. 19.

The delay, arranged with the longshoremen, is designed to allow for a return to full normalcy in port operations before talks start up again.

The union has asked a 40-cent hourly wage raise and increased fringe benefits. Wages had averaged $2.30 an hour.

Shippers had offered a 30-cent hourly package increase over a three-year period in return for more freedom in using automation in cargo handling.

The IILA rejected the automation demand, claiming it would force workers out of jobs.

witness, but Capt. Pyle said no charges will be filed until the investigation is complete and the full story is known.

Freeman has admitted so far that an argument broke out between himself and Tynes in the diner and that the two went out side to "fight it out," Capt. Pyle said.

Freeman's head is bandaged heavily. Police said he suffered a wound which required 15 stitches to close. Tynes is in "fairly good" condition with a laceration of the scalp and abrasions and contusions of the left cheek.

Both men were taken to the hospital about 2 a. m. Tynes signed a release after he had been treated and police took him to City Hall. However, he complained of dizziness, so he was returned to the hospital and admitted.

Classic Understatement

LONDON (AP)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan commented on his Conservative party's sweeping election victory with classic British understatement today. "It has gone off rather well," he said.

Industrial Unit Opens Phase Of Fund Drive

300 Volunteers Will Urge Use Of Payroll Plan In 22 Plants

The largest single division in the Community Fund campaign took to the field today as 300 workers in the industrial division began soliciting contributions from employees and management in 22 area industrial plants.

Headed by John C. Thompson, assistant general manager of the Hall China Co., and William F. Porter, vice president of the Globe Brick Co., the division hopes to set up a payroll deduction plan for contributions by workers in most area plants.

"In this way, the employee gives only as and when he earns and he has a full year to complete his pledge," Thompson pointed out.

"Everyone realizes the vital needs of the six agencies served through the Community Fund," he added. "We hope everyone will accept his or her fair share of responsibility in maintaining them through a year-round pledge."

As the first step in introducing the payroll deduction plan in area plants, the master shop committee at Hall's has distributed a "news letter" to IBOP members employed there, urging them to "join in the payroll deduction plan."

The action was taken following the master shop committee's meeting at IBOP headquarters Monday. Its letter says: "We hope in this way the fund can reach its goal and make it possible for the six agencies — Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, YMCA, Recreation Council, Salvation Army and USO — to carry on a full program."

The plant chairmen for employee solicitation are:

Hall China, Hocking, Edwin M. Knowles China Co., Alfred D. Laineve, Taylor, Smith & Taylor Co., Pat Frontone; Acme Craftware Co., Roland Leonard; New Castle Refractories, George Bennett; Pottery Supply Co., C. W. Holden; Louthan Manufacturing Co., Howard Pearce.

Borough Plan Given Support

Some 138 residents attended a meeting of the Ohio Township Board of Supervisors Wednesday evening and urged the board to continue a bid for borough status.

Joe Kadlak, board chairman, explained that plans for becoming a borough are halted now until a more accurate map of the township can be prepared. Map work is being done by Daniel C. Baker.

Both Kadlak and John Flasco, who is chairman of the new Citizens' Committee of Ohio Township, visited the Courthouse in Beaver Thursday to look at the township's map. Work by Baker is almost complete except for the northern border.

Residents expressed concern that Midland may annex territory before the township can become a borough and urged supervisors to work harder.

The citizens' committee, to aid supervisors, elected Flasco as chairman and will meet Oct. 21 and meet the last Thursday of each month.

Borough of Ohioville was discussed as a possible name for the new borough.

Residents asked Baker about applications for the proposed water distribution system in the township and he said more applicants still are needed.

Supervisors' next meeting will be about Nov. 11.

City Will File Formal Request To Defer Repayment Of Loan

The city must file a formal written request with "higher authorities" if it wants to defer repayment of at least part of $21,013 in federal funds loaned about 13 years ago for planning 2 blanket street and sanitary sewer projects, Mayor Fred P. Lawrence and Engineer George S. Bloomgren were told Thursday in a conference at the Chicago regional office of the Housing and Home Finance Agency.

When the city's request for deferment of the repayment is received in Chicago, it will be forwarded to "higher authority" in Washington, probably the General Accounting Office, the mayor and the engineer were told.

As part of a federal policy of helping plan postwar municipal projects, East Liverpool was advanced $9,117.74 for a street paving program and $11,895.41 for a sewerage project — a total of $21,013.15, the mayor explained. The Chicago agency began pressing for payment of the entire amount recently, pointing out that the agreement provided that the city would return the total sum whenever a single project of either of the blanket programs had been completed.

Some of the sub-items were completed as far back as 1947, the mayor said. The current Beechwood sewer program is one of the items in the blanket sanitary sewer program for which planning funds were advanced.

"We told them we hope they will permit the city to repay on a 'pay-as-completed' basis on individual projects instead of settling for the full amount now," the mayor said. He said he explained that $3,400 for plans was set aside as part of the financing of the Beechwood sewer project because the question of the loans had been called to the present administration's attention.

"We explained the city had not provided funds for repayment on plans for the previous projects completed a number of years ago — a total of about $7,000," the mayor said. "We said we have no funds now for repayment of those loans and asked that the federal government defer its demand until 1960 so that the city will be able to incorporate the amount into next year's budget."

However, the Council finance committee has been asked to determine, meanwhile, if there is a possibility the payment might be made out of 1959 funds, Lawrence added.

In A Pinch, They Stick Together

The only trouble with the injunction clause of the Taft-Hartley Act is, as the cigar smoker said when he tasted his first cigarette, that it "isn't much of a smoke."

It sounded like a sure-fire way to break up deadlocks when it was put into the law 12 years ago. But experience has shown that members of unions stick together on the show-down vote that follows the injunction.

Including the Longshoremen's strike, there now have been 16 applications of the Taft-Hartley Act in national emergency disputes.

Nine times, the dispute was settled during the 80-day work return specified by the law. Six times, the strike was still in progress when the 80 days ended. Five times, the workers then resumed the strike; they took no advantage of the law's provision that would let them vote to go back to work. The other time, the outcome of the vote was cloudy because of a dispute over representation.

The reason union members are unlikely to vote against their leadership in a strike issue is plain. It was not plain in 1947.

The vote turns into a showdown on unionism, itself — not on the terms of a labor contract. Union members are unlikely to cast a vote of no confidence in their only means of representation in a bargaining negotiation.

It is likely this pattern of decision will be repeated in the Longshoremen's strike if it cannot be settled during the 80-day work period. It probably would be repeated in the United Steelworkers strike if workers were ordered back to the mills by a federal court and no settlement were reached.

One thing about the Taft-Hartley injunction never has been made clear enough to union members. It is not the idea to hurt or help the union when the proceeding is used. There must be demonstrable danger to the national health and safety.

That is why a dock tieup justifies quick action. That is why a steel strike can be permitted to drag on for months. Steel is not perishable.

But if it can be shown that steel shortages now are serious enough to be an actual threat to national health and safety, an injunction to put the steel industry back to work would be justified. The situation never has occurred before, but if the strike continued in 1960 it is entirely possible a second injunction and perhaps a third and a fourth might be issued.

The nation has rights that transcend the bargaining rights of labor unions.

A Sitting Duck Resumes Its Pose

It is too bad hoopla gets more attention than dry facts, but that's the way it always has been.

The hoopla of the Khrushchev visit, whatever change it brought about in Russian eye-gouging tactics, brought about no change in the failure of the Allies to settle postwar problems in defeated Germany.

This dry fact came out unpleasantly in Secretary of State Herter's second news conference since he went on the job after the death of John Foster Dulles last spring.

Has there been a change in the policy of keeping occupation troops in Berlin until Germany is reunified, he was asked. His reply was that no change has been made and no change is contemplated.

The sitting duck that Premier Khrushchev drew a bead on last January, having quacked hysterically and run around in short circles, now is back in its sitting-duck position.

And what did Khrushchev do last January? He said what every government he was addressing knew to be true — that World War II was over and it was time to wrap up a settlement of the war as far as Germans were concerned.

All that made his position exciting was the fact he seemed determined to get down to brass tacks.

He first of all refused to string along with the myth that East Germany should not exist, which is the central theme of the Western Allies' policy.

He then capped the climax by declaring that since East Germany did exist and Berlin was inside its boundaries the Western Allies should get out of Berlin by May or there would be trouble.

The only tangible agreement to come out of the hoopla of the Khrushchev visit is the Russian Premier's spoken — not written — assurance that he will set no more deadlines for the Western Allies' departure.

Meanwhile, in the absence of any originality, the sitting duck will wait until it has been lined up again in the Kremlin's gun-sights.

This is a prime example of the diplomatic theory that time is on the side of the Western Allies; that they can wear out the Russians with endless patience.

But time does not stand still. The forces that have been holding East Germany and West Germany apart are growing stronger. Reunification is further out of the question now than before, even if it were pushed by the Western Allies and the West Germans. It isn't.

There only answer to the question of what is going to be done about winding up World War II was far as Germany is concerned is, "Nothing."

"Nothing" is not the answer of the Kremlin, which has no fear greater than fear of resurgent German nationalism.

A sitting duck can look forward to no better fate than being popped off sooner or later by a bad sport. The Kremlin is full of them.

No Business Like Show Business

Now that it has crossed the minds, belatedly, of congressional skeptics that quiz contests on TV were and still are show business as well as intelligence tests, there are dozens of things we unofficial skeptics want to know.

Do the bad guys and the good guys in the westerns use real bullets, or do those shooting contests go according to a script, too?

In the boob-tailed plays, do the actors really put down all that booze they pretend to be drinking, or do they toss it over their shoulders — or maybe substitute tea for the real thing?

When the chick who is 19 in Act I, turns up in Act II looking middle-aged, did she really run through the calendar that fast, or is her aging an illusion? And ditto the same question for some of the middle-aged gals who used to be around when some of us were juveniles and now are representing themselves as scarcely old enough to vote.

On the other hand if there is a rise it can lead to overeating. Personally, we don't like the idea. We like to take our mind off stock or off food and can't take a half-and-half attitude. Tickers and boards, however, are now possibility in many restaurants. We fear the conversation with the waiter:

Qualifications Of A Candidate

Integration Showdown Due In Labor

By Victor Riesel

Meany did not indicate whether there would be resignation or expulsion. But it makes little difference. The Railroad Brotherhoods will not leave the federation unless they are forced to go. They will go, not because they simply decided to keep an old section of their constitution out of sheer tradition. They will go because they do not want Negroes filling a contracting number of jobs in a creaky industry.

THEY WILL BOLT rather than give Negroes equal job rights and seniority because automation is putting the bite on the working force needed to run a railroad.

Nor will they be alone. There are thousands of local unions, on the docks, in huge mills, on vast construction projects which have no "white only" clauses.

But there is an unwritten rule that Negroes rise only to a certain semi-skilled level. Negroes never get the highly paid skilled work. They seldom get the special double time holiday and overtime pay. It is against the unwritten law, as well as the "white only" clauses put down in cold print, that A. Philip Randolph will lead his million and a half followers.

Of all the internal struggles the national labor leadership has faced, this will shake them most.

Obsession With Polls

By Raymond Moley

LONDON

Up to the beginning of the last week of the campaigning, real political information was overshadowed in most of the newspapers here by trumpeting of the latest in the results of public opinion polls on preferences among the party choices.

According to an investigation by the Sunday Observer, four of the five newspapers handling these polls were using figures supplied by the Gallup organization.

That agency collects information for each of its four customers through separate groups of canvassers and processes the results on its own machines. Then each paper may interpret what it gets in its own way. Beaverbrook's Daily Express polls its own.

The results, up to about two weeks before the election date, showed Conservatives getting five or more points better than Labor. Beaverbrook's poll showed an even higher margin.

Then the gap began to narrow, until a few days before the election the Conservative lead had been shaved to only a bit above 1 per cent, and finally the score was even-stein.

THE EFFECT has been to activate the parties to almost frenzied campaigning. The effect on public opinion when the Conservatives had a big lead was tranquilizing. Both parties were scared of that "bad ole debbil" of politics, "General Apathy."

In the last week, the newspapers and the two-party organizations were certainly not apathetic. They were flinging epithets about. If our Harry Truman and Richard Nixon, pretty salty campaigners, used some of the terms common over here, they would be viciously condemned.

This poll-crazy atmosphere seems strange to me. For on this occasion, as in two previous general elections, I have witnessed on the ground, I have grown to admire the precision of argument and the perfection of local organization.

Khrushchev's Game

By David Lawrence

Chinese Reds Still Follow Kremlin Lead

What is Khrushchev's game in Red China? Since no formal communique was issued after his visit to Peking there have been some observers in this country and abroad who have jumped to the conclusion that all is not well between the Red China regime and the Soviet government.

David Lawrence

But there are evidences that the Soviet Premier is playing a skillful role of seeming to avoid responsibility for what has been happening in the Far East—if only to convince Americans that he really means to be a peacemaker.

Actually the Moscow government is believed not only to be behind the trouble stirred up by the Communists in Laos, Pakistan and India but has been calling the signals on Quemoy.

SECRETARY OF STATE Herter made a significant comment about all this at his Tuesday press conference where the following colloquy occurred:

Q. Mr. Secretary, how do you reconcile what you said about the possibility of a split between Russia and Red China on foreign policy and the statement of the Chinese that they acknowledge Khrushchev as head of the Communist world?

A. Well, that was a very difficult one to explain. There is no question in my mind that that demand for recognition as the leader of the Communist world places upon the Russians a degree of responsibility for the actions of other members of the bloc that is very real.

To a degree they (the Soviets) are responsible, as long as they are maintaining this position of being the leader in the bloc, and insisting, as they seem to have, each time they go to China, that the Chinese recognize that leadership.

Q. Do you mean by that, sir, that in the view of American policy, the Soviet government has some responsibility for China's action toward Korea, or Formosa, or Laos, specific places of that kind?

A. A degree of responsibility, as long as they maintain that they are the leaders of the bloc.

FROM ANOTHER well-informed individual, highly placed in the field of Far Eastern diplomacy, comes an authoritative comment to this correspondent:

"The Red Chinese are dependent upon the Soviet Union for this 'leap forward' program because it is already in the doldrums and it would be infinitely worse if they lost Moscow's support."

Actually, I think there is a lot of wishful thinking about Red China's relations with the Soviets.

Cold Wars All Alike

By William L. Ryan

Little or big, cold wars are all alike.

To be an able cold war statesman, a man has to learn how to look reasonable without badging an inch.

What he says to his adversary, in effect, is: "I propose to give in to one or the other of your more reasonable demands. In return I ask that you do something I already know is impossible for you. All this will get us nowhere, in reality, but it provides something to talk about, and while we're talking, at least we're not fighting."

In the Middle East's own cold war, Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic has demonstrated the application of this basic cold war rule once again. It is not peculiar to him. It's common to all cold war participants.

That master of cold war politics, Nikita S. Khrushchev, applies the rule over and over again in the big East-West contest.

In Cairo, Nasser shows himself to be an astute student of modern cold war tactics. In an interview with Wilton Wynn of The Associated Press, Nasser expressed willingness to let a United Nations commission carry out a Security Council resolution providing for freedom of shipping for all the Suez Canal, including Israel.

This sounds attractive. Israel has been trying to force this issue to a showdown. But what is the price?

Israel says Nasser must accept internationalization of Jerusalem and the 1947 U.N. plan for partitioning Palestine.

The Arabs went to war in 1948 rather than submit to that program. They lost. Israel occupied territory which otherwise might have been Arab. She also took half of Jerusalem, ancient citadel of Zion, and set up a capital there. Obviously, Israel will not surrender voluntarily on either of these issues.

Neither Israel nor Nasser, who still must be considered the main voice of the Arabs, seems to make much of an attempt to get down to reality in talking about how their 11-year-old state of war might be ended.

By Nasser has put a finger on one thing which might help pre-

I think they are working in absolute collusion. I think Mr. Khrushchev is cleverly pursuing a tactic. I don't think either one of them has changed in any way their ultimate objectives."

"Maybe" it was suggested, "Mr. Khrushchev is trying to get prestige in the West as the man who is keeping Red China from jumping on us." Here is the reply:

"As a matter of fact, Khrushchev is the one who can keep them from doing it because they are dependent upon Russia for their basic materials and spare parts and planes and guns and ammunition."

"You know our people examined hundreds of shells that were fired at Quemoy and Matsu and not a single solitary one of them was made in China."

"Red China could not get into a major war without the consent of Russia because, after the Chinese used up their first reserves, Russia would have to supply them through that long line of communication down through Siberia."

"The very fact that Red China is dependent upon the Soviets is a great factor for peace in the Pacific."

"What about Khrushchev's responsibility for the aggression in northern India and in Laos?" was then asked. The answer given was:

"It's no major war that is involved for them in India — and not only that, Moscow is just as much interested as Red China in Communism taking over Asia."

COINCIDENT with these comments is the significant speech made this week by Gen. C. F. Cabell, the deputy director of Central Intelligence, who says with respect to the Communist aggression in Laos:

"We know that the Communists have clandestinely supplied weapons and trained agitators and are master-minding the operation."

Gen. Cabell also outlines in detail the Communist infiltration and preparations for aggression in various countries in Africa. He adds:

"To the free peoples of the West, the bold evidence of Communist aggression is not very palatable. Calling this 'peaceful coexistence' does not make much sense to me."

So far as Red China is concerned, there is indeed much confusion here about the actual relationship between Peking and Moscow.

Many observers are assuming that these are two independent entities and that their policies are by no means coordinated.

Basically Red China, however, is entirely dependent on the Soviet Union. It cannot get help from any other part of the world and must depend for its entire economic future on the aid that it gets from the Soviet regime.

It is not likely, therefore, that Peking will fail on any important matter to take advice from Moscow.

This provides a test of the sincerity of Mr. Khrushchev in his new role as a peacemaker.

pare the way. In his package proposal, he asked that Israel concede the right of Palestine refugees from Israeli territory to choose whether they will return to their former homes or accept payment for their losses.

If Nasser had confined his proposal to swapping the Suez concession for the Arab refugee concession, it would have a chance of getting somewhere. Tied in with the other demands, the proposal remains just talk.

It's possible something could be accomplished if the refugee question could be settled. Few of the million refugees, it is certain, would choose to return to their old homes under Israeli rule. But for the sake of their dignity, they want to have the choice between that and compensation. The payment would be costly, but far less so than a new war, or even the never-ending threat of such a war in the Middle East. The refugee question is the key problem in the search for stability.

The idea of such a swap is sound and logical. Only Nasser, among the leaders of the Arabs, is strong enough to be able to afford logic in that ever-perturbed slice of the world.

School Nurse Talks To PTA

NEW CUMBERLAND — School health is a team task, Mrs. Charlotte Logston of Newell, Hancock County school nurse, told the New Cumberland Parent-Teacher Association Thursday night.

"No one individual or agency is responsible for conserving and improving the health of school children. It is the joint responsibility of the home, school and community."

Mrs. Logston emphasized parents can help prevent the spread of communicable diseases by keeping children at home when they have colds, fevers and headaches, all symptoms of communicable diseases.

Two films, "Control of Contagious Diseases" and a Walt Disney comedy, "How to Catch a Cold" were screened.

During the business meeting, Mrs. Lucille Zapor, vice president, read the bylaws with the changes recommended by the committee. The amendments were approved. Mrs. Claude Ford, president, presided.

The Rev. James Bird of the Trinity Methodist Church led devotions and Mrs. James Wellington sang "I Walk With God," accompanied by Mrs. John Jones. The banner award was won by Mrs. Robert Roach's fifth grade. Refreshments were served by the committee headed by Mrs. Arnett Baker.

New Proposals Offered

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—The United Steelworkers have introduced into their negotiations with Timken Roller Bearing Co. proposals the union said "provide further protections to earnings in the face of the company's automation program and prevent rate-cutting."

The company had no comment on the proposals at the session which recessed Thursday until 2 p.m. Monday. The USW's contract with Timken has been extended until Oct. 24.

Siamese Twins Reported Having Amazing Vitality

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—The Stubblefield Siamese twins showed amazing vitality today, including one who had a brush with death Thursday and then recovered swiftly.

A University of Oregon Medical School spokesman said the life of 3-month-old Jeanett Kim was hanging by a thread because fluids in her lungs all but stopped her breathing.

He said artificial respiration and oxygen were administered to the child, who only the day before had had a metal tube inserted into her windpipe when mucous hampered nose and throat breathing.

Jeanett Kim and her sister Denett Linn were separated by a 17-man team of surgeons.

The children, born June 29 at Nyssa, Ore., are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. James Stubblefield of Parma, Idaho.

Re-Elected In Hancock

C. C. Herron Returned In ASC Post 24th Time

Hancock County farmers have returned a 78-year-old Pughtown man as chairman of the County Agricultural, Stabilization and Conservation Committee for the 24th consecutive time.

In a "ballot by mail" election this week, C. C. Herron received 63 of 76 votes cast to retain the chairmanship of the ASC committee and keep his record intact of being the only farmer to hold the post since 1936.

The annual election was marked by the defeat of a veteran member of the three-member ASC committee — Donald Allison of Chester — who lost his seat to Shields Mayhew of Pughtown.

Mayhew, just named the county's conservation farmer for 1959, polled 47 votes to Allison's 42. The third member elected is incumbent Carl Allison of Gas Valley Rd., who drew 60 votes.

Alternate committee members elected are Harry Nichols of near Tomlinson Run State Park, and Donald Allison. Nichols drew 46 votes and Allison 42.

Mrs. Norma Murray, office manager, said the ASC committee has started making $7,000 in conservation rental payments to 8 county farmers. Eight others have until Oct. 16 to apply for contracts under the acreage reserve program.

C. C. HERRON

He's Been Serving Since 1936.

Rates were set Thursday, the average being $16 an acre, and the maximum, $24.

The first meeting of the newly-elected ASC committee has been set tentatively for Nov. 10, Mrs. Murray said. She added applications are still being taken for farmers requesting lime and fertilizer.

Local Will Air Trade Vote On Building Plans

If seven more local unions enact similar resolutions, the international union must schedule a referendum that will decide whether the building plan is approved or rejected, the IBOP constitution provides.

Word of Local 9's contemplated action was contained in a brief "Official Notice" published today on Page 1 of the Potters Herald, official union newspaper.

It reads: "Officers of Local Union No. 9 issue an official notice to its members that a vote will be taken at our next meeting on Oct. 16 on a resolution initiating

This seven-man employee-management team is in charge of Community Fund solicitations at the Hall China Co., one of 22 area industrial plants where workers will be asked to authorize payroll deductions to pay their fair share toward support of six community agencies. From left, they are: William G. Ridge and John Shay, foremen at Halls; Elmer Robinson and James Moss, representatives of the IBOP masters shop committee at Hall's; William Hocking, the company's personnel manager and chairman of the plant employee solicitation committee; John C. Kjellman, T. K. Roofing Co., T. K. Kashuba, and Harker Pottery Co., Robert Miller.

Other firms joining in the plan, but for which the chairmen have not yet been named, are: Sterling China Co., Wellsville China Co. and Patterson Foundry & Machine Co.

The "news letter" to IBOP members employed at Hall's said in part:

"For many years this fund has fallen short of its goal. This can only mean that if we continue to fall short the six agencies will have to cut back the program they set out to do."

"We understand our plant plans to start its solicitation very soon and this committee urges each member to join in the payroll deduction plan."

The letter is signed by James B. Moss of Local 4, William Vaughn of Local 24, Barbara Walker of Local 124, William Dalrymple of Local 141, Elmer Robinson of Local 172 and R. K. McCormick of Local 12.

In addition to serving as chairman of the industrial division of the fund drive, Thompson is vice president of the fund association. He also is a member of the board and district finance chairman of the Boy Scouts, one of the agencies supported by the campaign. He is director of the Cerebral Palsy Affiliate and a director and community service chairman of the Rotary Club.

Porter is a member of the Executive Board of the Boy Scout Council and a director of the North Hancock County Red Cross Chapter and the Mary Patterson Home. He is vice president of the Kiwanis Club.

Aiding Thompson and Porter in recruiting plant volunteers and in the solicitation of management contributions to the fund campaign are eight team captains: Roger A. Hall, Philip Irwin, Robert Miller, Edwin S. Morse, Pearl, Sidney C. Porter Jr., H. Russell Smith and Charles D. Taylor.

The captains already have distributed working supplies and instructions to the employee solicitation chairmen in the area's 22 industrial plants to be contacted by the division. The chairmen have recruited nearly 300 plant volunteers to conduct an individual canvass.

Meanwhile, officers are checking the ownership of the car Elkins was driving. Interviewed at the hospital, he declined to give details of the crash and said only that the car was owned by a "friend" whose name he does not know, police said.

Police said Elkins was headed east when his car struck the left side of the pickup and knocked it onto the sidewalk. Elkins' car continued, colliding head-on with Wagner's auto and shoving it into the front of Stewart's car, police said.

When Elkins' car halted, its front end was on top of the hood of Wagner's auto, police said. The Midland man's car traveled 120 feet between the first impact and the point where it halted, officers said.

Elkins was taken to the hospital by a passing motorist, Ray Cornelius, 1101 Vine St.

The Sept. 28 crash also involved a Midland driver's auto that went out of control on the same section of Harvey Ave. and crashed into a series of parked cars.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I was married five years to a rotter. He used to come home loaded, pull me out of bed and beat me for no reason. He wouldn't let me go anywhere, not even to the grocery. I never had a cent to call my own. It was like being in jail. When our son was 3 I couldn't take it any more so I got a divorce. Now I'm married to the sweetest guy who ever lived. After what I've been through I can appreciate a man who treats me like a human being. The problem is, Don dislikes my son.

He cringes when the boy tries to climb on his lap. Don brings me little surprises and gifts but never anything for the child. This is breaking my heart and I don't know what to do. I need help.—G.

Dear G: Don is uncomfortable around the boy because he identifies him with your first husband. This is tragic and unfair.

Ask your clergyman to talk with Don. If he hears from an outsider how his hostility toward the boy may cripple the marriage, it may help him to be more rational.

Anti-Freeze Dances

Dear Ann: My 17-year-old daughter, Fay, and I are having a spirited difference of opinion.

There's a growing social custom in our city—free public dances for teen-agers. Fay is lively, cute and popular. She has plenty of dates. I've permitted her to attend these dances because her girl friend (who is unpopular) wants her to go along. I don't like the idea and have said so.

Since the dances are free and refreshments are cheap, it puts the boys in an enviable position. They go, look over the crop of girls and decide which one (if any) they'll take home.

I say the whole setup is cheap and any girl who goes along with it is a ninny. Why should a boy exert himself to phone for a date if he can pick up the girl at a free dance? Who is right?—IRATE MOTHER

Dear Mother: These affairs, if properly chaperoned (and I assume they are), help to provide a social outlet for fellows who are broke and girls who don't get many proper phone dates. For many young people it can be a God send, but a gal who is "lively, cute and popular" doesn't need this setup.

Happier At Home

Dear Ann: My husband has an aunt who is 76 years old. She raised him when his mother died so he feels he owes her a lot.

This aunt lives 170 miles away, owns her own cute little bungalow and has a small income on which she manages nicely.

We drive over to see her every two weeks, just for the day. I don't mind, because it's a nice ride and she is good company and adores our children.

Lately my husband has been nagging her to sell her home and move in with us. We have room and I wouldn't mind but I honestly feel she's better off where she is. He claims he's responsible for her and would feel better if she were under our roof.

She's cool to the idea but in time, if he keeps nagging her, he may change her mind. Will you comment?—ELSIE

Dear Elsie: Tell your husband to let his aunt live her own life. It's far better for older people to be independent in the twilight of their years, if they can manage it.

Auntie will be much happier in her own home with her own friends and neighbors. Let well enough alone.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped self-addressed envelope.

Wanted Men Face Charges

3 Missing Girls Found With California Badmen

APALACHICOLA, Fla. (AP)—A trio of California badmen and three remorseful Montana high schools girls they took on a cross-country spree spent the night in jail in this little fishing town on Florida's Gulf Coast.

A state highway patrolman stopped their pink 1959 Pontiac stolen in Seattle, Wash., after a suspicious motel owner reported them Thursday. The men made no move to resist although two rifles, a shotgun, several boxes of ammunition and five sticks of dynamite were found in the trunk.

The FBI said the wanted men, George R. Jann, 29; Frank H. Spicer, 24; and Frank E. Fisher (age unknown), would be taken to Tallahassee today for arraignment on federal charges of unlawful flight.

Sheriff Herbert Marshall of Franklin County held the three girls, Claudia Fuller, 17; Sharron Lee McDowell, 16; and Sharron Irene Balatz, 17, as runaways for Helena, Mont., authorities.

No criminal charges were filed against the girls, who had been last seen stepping into the pink car at the Helena High School last Friday. At first it was feared they had been kidnapped.

Sharron McDowell admitted that she knew they were traveling with wanted criminals. She said Jann had told her they were wanted by the FBI.

She said she didn't tell the other girls.

Jann and Spicer broke out of a prison at Soledad, Calif., in August. They were serving terms for burglary. They were arrested at Lynwood, Calif., in September, on burglary charges, but escaped from the jail there. Fisher faces a burglary charge at San Diego, Calif.

Seaway's Off To Good Start, Officials Say

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—The St. Lawrence Seaway is off to a good start despite early difficulties that caused delays at the Welland Canal, two seaway officials told the National Conference of Editorial Writers here Thursday night.

The speakers were B. J. Roberts, president of the St. Lawrence Seaway Authority of Canada, and Lewis G. Castle, administrator of this country's St. Lawrence Seaway Development Corp.

Roberts attributed the Welland Canal delays to the late start of the navigation season, mechanical breakdowns, accidents, fog, wind and the "slow progress of ocean vessels whose masters were unfamiliar with passage through canals."

He pointed out, however, that there have been no serious delays in the last three months.

Castle said the fears of East Coast ports and the railroads about the seaway were "rather hysterical and sheer folly." Demands for expansion of the economy will require "all the transportation we can get," he added.

Theme of the four-day 13th annual meeting of the National Conference of Editorial Writers, which opened Wednesday, is "The Significance of the St. Lawrence Seaway."

The Deloma trucking firm was fined $25 and costs for axle overweights, and the Edward Durrer Co. of Pittsburgh, $50 and costs for overweight.

Truckers were issued citations by West Virginia State Police who conducted an inspection at the intersections of Routes 30 and 2 near Chester.

Scouts, Leaders Will Aid Tribute

Boy members and adults of the Columbiana Boy Scout Council will take part in a commemorative tribute to be erected in Washington to honor the 33½ million Americans who have been affiliated with the movement since its establishment in 1910, according to A. P. Schmauch of Salem, president.

The tribute has been authorized by Congress and President Eisenhower.

It probably will be of bronze or similar metal depicting a scout or scouts grouped with one or more leaders centered in a fountain with a background of scenes depicting various phases of scouting's program, aims, and objectives.

Present and former members will have an opportunity to share in the project, Schmauch said. Each donor will sign his name on a scroll. These names will be sealed in the tribute.

Fifty dime-sized, coin slotted cards have been sent to each cubmaster, scoutmaster and explorer advisor in the council and it is hoped that each unit will fill the coin card and contribute at least 10 cents per boy. Adult members, if they wish, may contribute currency or a check, Schmauch said.

The final form of the tribute and its date of dedication will be determined by the response from units throughout the United States, Schmauch said.

Guilty Verdict Found In Non-Support Case

Lige Freeman of Wellsville, indicted by the Columbiana County Grand Jury for non-support of his three minor children, was found guilty by a Common Pleas Court jury Thursday afternoon at Lisbon.

Judge Joel H. Sharp, who presided over the trial which began yesterday morning, deferred sentencing pending a motion for a new trial.

Kiwanis Hears City Chemist

A discussion on river pollution, purification of the city water and other aspects of the area water supply was presented by Donald Duke, city chemist, at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club Thursday at the Travelers Hotel.

Duke described the use of chlorine and other chemicals in purifying water along with various chemicals used to reduce the chlorine taste.

The chemist also discussed the effect of the water pollution control program for the Ohio River and subsidiaries, and said there has been no great effect noticed locally.

Duke said this is due to the fact that there still are some 30 communities upstream which have not yet provided sewage treatment, and Pittsburgh is just getting its sewage treatment program into operation.

Duke also said there is an accumulation of sludge behind upriver dams, which will have to be reduced by lowering the wickets to flush it downstream.

The chemist related his development of a sterilizing solution which is now being used by barbers and others for sterilizing tools and equipment. A question-and-answer period was held.

James Locke was program chairman. It was announced an inter-club meeting will be held at Martins Ferry Monday. Rowland Kaufman, president, was in charge.

BIGGEST DOLLAR'S WORTH EVER

Out Of The Air

By JOHN CROSBY

Diamonds Aren't Color TV's Best Friend

John Crosby

I see no sense in color television for baseball.

This opinion, mind you, comes from a guy who loves color television. Color TV for Dinah Shore, or even for Milton Berle, yes—but I never have seen color out of doors that worked at all well. The color values change from minute to minute: the pitchers turn from green to bright pink; the grass looks phony. And for what? I keep asking myself.

To sell sets is the obvious answer. Except that it doesn't sell sets. (As far as I can see, nothing sells color TV sets. They could have 1-cent sales and it wouldn't do any good.)

But even if a man were disposed to buy a set, a baseball game might change his mind. It's the worst thing you could show him. Color TV is best close to its subject and naturally at a baseball game the cameras are a long way from Luis Aparicio whose play is not improved in color. And even if it were good, color is just a distraction from a good ball game.

OTHERWISE, I found the camera work in Chicago excellent and in Los Angeles pretty bad. In Chicago the cameras are hung high and you can watch the play closely. In Los Angeles, the main camera is at a ground level almost directly back of the catcher. This is fine for watching the pitching. As a matter of fact, we got an excellent view of Drysdale's good curve and Donovan's marvelous slider. It's only when the ball is hit that the viewer is in trouble—but, after all, isn't that what you go to a ball game for?

The cameras in Los Angeles didn't follow the ball and didn't even give you much of a view of the infielders or outfielders who were chasing the ball. The only way I had of knowing how hard the ball was hit was from the announcer and I'd rather see these things myself.

THE SPONSOR has sold every male child a razor, I guess, and has turned most of its attention in this series on the ladies.

The lovely ladies such as Debra Paget and Jane Russell were everlastingly guarding their daintiness by shaving their legs in my living room. I wish they'd do it some place else.

Vince Scully, who has been calling the Dodger games for years, and Jack Brickhouse, the Chicago caller for the White Sox, are both doing a fine, unhygienic job of announcing the games.

Apart from these pinpricks, I'm very grateful to have the World Series in my living room and NBC deserves a pat on the back for cancelling prime evening Sunday shows to get the whole game in.

It's nice to have the games in Los Angeles, where they start at 5 p.m. Eastern Daylight Time. Man can get a day's work done and hurry home to the ball game.

DINAH SHORE is back at the usual time and place and the first show, with Dinah scurrying through the streets, opened big with a marvelous medley of good tunes—"Easy to Love," "Where or When," "Get Out of Town," and "They Can't Take That Away From Me."

It was a good, lively show with Gwen Verdon doing a dance from "Redhead," Groucho Marx getting perhaps a touch too waspish with a fellow from the audience, and Ingemar Johansson singing a couple of Swedish songs.

But the real star of the evening was the handsome little car the sponsor is putting out. For a girl with an automobile sponsor, Miss Shore has to do more walking.

Both her show and the Steve Allen show, also with a car sponsor, opened with the actors having to do an awful lot of personal locomotion.

IT'S BEEN A good season for old-fashioned burlesque. In "Small World, Isn't It?"—one of the NBC specials—Art Carney and Hermione Gingold contributed a funny spoof of "Separate Tables" and later of Ed Murrow's "Small World."

Maybe satire is coming back. I devoutly hope so.

Edie Adams also was on the premises, brightening them considerably with a couple songs but mostly with that face which just seems so full of the joy of living.

Jack Benny is back for his 10th season with a new sponsor, replacing the old one which formed the basis for many of the jokes.

It was an easygoing show, a bit slow in spots, with Dennis Day's deadpan delivery getting the biggest laughs. It's on at a new time, CBS-TV, 10 p.m. EDT, incidentally.

Next week, George Gobel will be holding that spot down, and the week after Benny will be back with his guest, Harry Truman.

A burlap pillows and glass etching project will feature the meeting of the Franklin Township Home Demonstration Group Tuesday from 10:30 a. m. to 3 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Ann Tepsic in Summitville. Mrs. Pearl Brown and Mrs. Wilda Tennant are the leaders.

Union Busting Move Seen In Coast Walkout

The International Brotherhood of Operative Pottery rallied financial support today for its striking Local 226 in Colton, Calif., charging the employer with "all-out efforts to break the union."

The local's members have been on strike since Aug. 26 against the Crane Co., a manufacturer of plumbing fixtures. The IBOP said negotiations over a new contract broke off because the company issued an ultimatum on a proposal that would have meant a reduction of 10 to 40 per cent in piecework rates.

E. L. Wheatley, international president of the union who stopped off at Colton on his way home from the AFL-CIO convention, charged the Crane Co. with "a deliberate attempt to break the union." He pledged the "whole-hearted co-operation of members of the IBOP until justice is granted in a contract."

The Brotherhood president urged locals throughout the trade to send financial support to the California local.

"Today it is Colton; tomorrow it may be your own local union confronted with the same situation," he said. "The IBOP accepts this challenge in behalf of the entire membership and will rally its forces to fight its enemies. Moral and financial assistance will be furnished our brothers in Colton."

The IBOP said the contract with Crane in Colton would have expired July 25, but it was extended for two months while negotiations continued in an unsuccessful attempt to reach a settlement.

Tax Commissioner Rules On Collections

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Sales tax must henceforth be collected on dinners and socials given by religious, charitable and other organizations, Tax Commissioner Stanley J. Bowers announced Thursday.

Bowers filed a repealer on a tax department rule with the secretary of state. He said the rule was inconsistent with an amendment legislated this year to the sales tax law governing casual and isolated sales.

Now, the commissioner said, all sales of property by organizations and others who acquired such property for sale will require collection of the tax.

Prior to the amendment, groups holding three or four socials a year were placed in the casual or isolated sales category.

Named as a committee to purchase an organ were Emil Birch, Clair Chambers, Mrs. Wayne Russell and Mrs. Powell.

Purchase of storm windows for the parsonage was approved. The Rev. Emmanuel Emanuel, who presided, opened with prayer and repeating of the Lord's Prayer concluded the session.

Eisenhower Is Real Whiz In Kitchen

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—President Eisenhower may not be Sam Snead on the golf course but he's a whiz in the kitchen.

That word came today from several people who ate meals prepared by the nation's No. 1 chef. During the President's eight-day vacation at nearby La Quinta, he cooked every meal served at the George Allen home — 23 in all.

His biggest dinner was an outdoor steak barbecue Sunday night when 14 guests showed up with desert appetizers. One guest admitted that he had some misgivings about the cook's culinary skill.

"But," he commented, "it was one of the best steak dinners I have ever had. It's amazing to tell the President of the United States that you want your steak done medium rare — and even more amazing when it comes to the table just as you ordered it."

Eisenhower's cooking leans to the wholesome, all-American type — no fancy gourmet experiments. Beef stew, for instance, is the specialty of the house.

His pancakes for breakfast do not come out of a ready-mix box. He makes his own batter, the kind mother used to make.

Bethany College Homecoming Set

Bethany College, which traces its origins to 1840, will hold its annual homecoming Saturday.

A feature of the day's events will be the football game of Western Reserve University, the 1958 Presidents Athletic Conference winners, and the Bethany Bisons. The game will be at 2 p. m. at Rine Field.

The new $1,500 Rine Field scoreboard, a gift of the Class of 1959 and of the Bison Club, will be officially received by college officials at halftime. There also will be a halftime parade of fraternity and sorority floats and the five candidates for homecoming queen.

The coronation of the queen by Dr. Perry Epler Gresham, president, will be at a dance at 9 p. m. at the Pine Room at Oglebay Park. The park was named after Earl W. Oglebay, alumnus of Bethany.

Earlier there will be an Alumni Council meeting at 10 a. m. at Bethany House. The homecoming parade will be at 1:30 p. m.

Police Unravel Story In Fleeing Of Woman

CINCINNATI (AP)—Police have unraveled the story of four men who called themselves building inspectors and fleeced Mrs. Rosa Hafner of $3,900 for repairs on her home.

Investigators said Mrs. Hafner came to City Hall Thursday and told this story:

Three young men came to her home and told her the house was becoming dangerous. They put up five wood braces and charged her $1,900—which she paid.

They returned Sept. 30 and said they overcharged her. They offered a check for $5,000 if she would pay them $3,000. She paid $2,000 and when nobody came for the other $1,000 she went to City Hall Thursday to ask about it.

Police said the so-called check given the woman was only a savings withdrawal slip from a downtown bank.

Funeral Services Set

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—Funeral services for George W. Secrest, former Trumbull County prosecutor (1932-36) and a member of the Warren Board of Education the last 22 years, will be held here Saturday. He died of a heart attack Thursday in Trumbull Memorial Hospital, Secrest, a native of Scio, Ohio, came to Warren from Akron 35 years ago.

Meany-Carey Rift Widens

CLEVELAND (AP)—A rift between George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, and James B. Carey, one of the merged labor federation's vice presidents, looks wider today because of a speech Carey made to a convention here.

Carey told nearly 1,000 delegates to the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers Union convention here Thursday.

"I was so awfully displeased at the AFL-CIO convention when George Meany took off after a man who was doing the right thing in representing his membership."

The reference was to a debate on segregation policies of some AFL-CIO unions during the convention at San Francisco last month.

"It was awfully fortunate that A. Phillip Randolph is a great man, a Negro and a trade unionist," Carey continued, "because he is accustomed to taking abuse. I don't think he ought to have to take it, though, from the leader of the labor movement."

Meany and Randolph, head of the Negro Sleeping Car Porters Union, became involved in a heated debate at the convention Sept. 23. Randolph was demanding elimination of racially segregated union locals and punitive action against locals that resisted.

Meany was quoted as shouting at Randolph: "Who the hell appointed you as guardian of all the Negro members in America?"

In another part of downtown Cleveland another AFL-CIO international union competing for members in the same fields as the OCAW was holding its convention of some 450 delegates. This union, the International Chemical Workers, heard a vice president of the Monsanto Chemical Co., Felix N. Williams of St. Louis, assail farmer cooperatives.

Williams said these co-ops "make and sell about 400 million dollars worth of fertilizers a year out of an industry total of 1½ billion dollars, and their share of the market is growing rapidly each year."

"Because of the unique tax-free position they enjoy," he continued, they are "gradually undermining this part of the chemical business" and can "undercut prices by as much as 25 per cent."

Queen Is Chosen For Crowning In Fete At Irondale

IRONDALE — The community's 19th annual homecoming observance continues tonight with a fire department demonstration and pep rally and "open house" at churches, Village Hall and the Masonic Lodge.

Volunteer firemen will present an equipment demonstration to-night at 6 near Stanton Local High School, with a bonfire and pep rally to follow. The Stanton High football team and cheerleaders will ride through the community on an open vehicle, weather permitting.

Some 350 attended a minstrel show Thursday night in the high school when Miss Carol Sprouse was named homecoming queen for 1959.

A blue-eyed brunette, Miss Sprouse selected the "odd colored" rose from a floral arrangement and was named queen.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Sprouse of Chestnut Grove, she will be crowned at halftime ceremonies of the Stanton Local-Salineville football game Saturday afternoon at 2 at Memorial Field.

Her court will include Misses Judy Boyd, Suzanne Russell and Elizabeth Thomas. The girls will ride in open convertibles to the crowning ceremonies in front of the bleachers at the gridiron.

Activities opened Wednesday night with a round and square dance which over 200 attended.

Saturday's schedule includes athletic contests for youngsters at Memorial Field at 9:30, the football game at 2, a dinner about 6 in the high school, and a round dance to the music of Al Loretto's orchestra from Steubenville from 9 to 12 in the high school gymnasium.

All events are held on Eastern Standard Time, Mayor Quentin Henderson said.

Joint community worship services Sunday morning at 10 in the Presbyterian Church will cap this year's homecoming.

2 District Airmen Now On Furlough

T.Sgt. Charles D. Ward, local Air Force recruiter in the City Hall, said two area airmen are home on furlough.

Airman 3C Wayne Tolley, son of Lewis Tolley, 312-A Washington St., Newell, will report to Travis Air Force Base, Calif., for duty at Fuchu Air Force Base in Japan as a communications center specialist.

Wayne is a 1958 graduate of Wells High School and enlisted in June 1958.

S.Sgt. Charles L. Stacey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy T. Stacey of Glenmoor, is home from Cape Charles (Va.) Air Force Station. He enlisted in September 1954 and again in December 1958.

His wife, the former Miss Barbara Jean Robertson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Robertson of Sherwood Ave., LaCroft, has accompanied him on his travels.

Their daughter, Roberta, was born in the base hospital at the U. S. Military Academy at West Point while he was assigned at Stewart Air Force Base.

Sgt. Stacey also completed his high school training in the Air Force and has received his diploma.

Potter Suffers Cut On Ware

A woman pottery worker cut on ware and a man injured while repairing a furnace were treated at City Hospital Thursday, along with three others hurt in mishaps yesterday.

Mrs. Alice Howe, 423 College St., was treated last night for a laceration of the hand suffered at work at the Hall China Co. when she slipped, and grabbed for support, cutting her hand on a piece of ware.

Ralph Boyd, 40, of R. D. 1 suffered a laceration of the hand on a piece of metal while working on a furnace.

Gail Allison, 25, of Salineville R. D. 1 received a leg injury when he turned his ankle.

Alan Glenn, 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Glenn of Cannons Mills, suffered a laceration of the tongue in a fall.

Larry Morris, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Morris of Ruth St., was treated yesterday morning for a leg injury received while playing football.

Yule Tea Planned By Farm Women

An annual "Christmas Idea Tea" was set for Nov. 6 in Swaney Memorial Library at New Cumberland when members of the Asbury Farm Women's Club of near Chester met in the Agricultural Building Thursday to outline preliminary plans.

Mrs. Clyde Huff, Asbury president, said this year's event will include music, demonstrations and displays of various homemade articles used in the home.

The tea will be held from 1 to 9 p. m. with the public invited to attend.

Chairmen will appear on WSTV-TV Oct. 27 at 4 p. m. to further plans.

The Asbury club will meet Wednesday at 1:30 p. m. in the home of Mrs. Harry Chapman of Gas Valley Rd., Mrs. Huff announced. Eight attended yesterday's meeting.

Support Efforts Of Sound Ruling, U.S. Official Asks

CLEVELAND (AP)—Postmaster Gen. Arthur E. Summerfield defines "the most crucial problem facing this country" as "the need for all who believe in sound government to stand forth day after day and support the efforts that must be made to maintain it."

By sound government, Summerfield said in an address to the fall conference of the Associated Industries of Cleveland, he means government "with responsible economic policies opposed to inflation, excessive taxation, and misuse of monopoly power."

The alternative, Summerfield indicated, is a government "that accepts inflation, confiscatory taxation and abuse of monopoly power as a political necessity."

He called it a "vital victory for the political vigor of the American people" that "the spenders fell back in retreat" in the session of Congress that ended last month.

The postmaster general said passage of the new labor law was "a triumph for the American people" over "what is probably the strongest pressure group this country has ever known." He said he meant "union monopoly leaders" who he foresaw as spurred by the defeat to "be devoted more intensely than ever to the effort to obtain their own brand of political advantage."

Chance To Get Even . . .

We've been asked more than once this week — what do you think of the game being moved to Warren?

There is only one practical answer for this question. Of course, we are in favor of it. There was expected to be some resentment by Potter fans, but from our travels we have found that more people favor the move than those who oppose it.

If in one night East Liverpool High School can make enough money to pay off some long standing debts, then we feel the move is worth it.

We must take into consideration the offer made by Warren. In the first place, out of the first $10,000 made on the game East Liverpool gets $9,000, then anything over $10,000 is split 50-50.

There isn't a better deal anywhere. All Warren is interested in doing is accommodating its fans. Warren officials claim that 8,000 people would follow the team to East Liverpool.

Put the 8,000 Warren fans and some 4,000 people who will attend from our own area together and you have a throng of 12,000. Patterson Field only can seat 6,000. Where would we put them?

Prediction Wrong Already . . .

Letters were received from two fans this week. Both letters were signed.

Dear Bob: When I read the letter in Friday night's Review from the Nonpareil member I wasn't one bit surprised to read of someone criticizing Coach Venditti for his coaching tactics.

That seems to be the policy here, just to criticize, not support our coaches. I know Mr. Venditti only slightly, and I may be wrong but he doesn't seem to be the kind of man who would be prejudiced against any boy who has the will to come out and try out for football and go through what those boys do to make a real team.

It takes hours of work and practice and eating dirt, etc. But one thing I am sure of is that Coach Venditti is more aware of what Fan Wants To Know Why . . .

Dear Sir: Since night football for the Junior High School games was denied because our school officials did not want the game emphasized and since quite a few free tickets have been given away in order to promote interest in the senior high school encounters — one decision contradicts the other.

Why all of a sudden did Mr. Hargraves decide to emphasize the game to make a few dollars?

Mr. Hargraves obviously does not care for the sport unless it pays off.

I have paid to see my last athletic event where ELHS is a participant. Warren vs. ELHS at Warren???

Signed George Connelly

THERE was expected to be some fans not in favor of moving the game to Warren. However, what Mr. Hargraves and members of the athletic board are trying to do is make one big "killing" on the Warren game in order to clear East Liverpool High School of several large debts.

It may be true that one time they are de-emphasizing and the other emphasizing sports but in this case it is a practical necessity.

Signed Gene Talbott

Yes, Mr. Talbott, you are so right. Since East Liverpool defeated New Philadelphia 60-0 last week the Potters can't finish worse than 2-8. So with only three games played the Nonpareil member who predicted a 1-9 season is wrong already as was expected.

This 'N That In Sports . . .

IN ANSWER to an inquiry from Daniel Bekar of East Liverpool, the 48 games without a defeat held by Braddock, Pa., is not a national record as we said earlier.

Mr. Bekar reminded us that Massillon won 52 games from 1937-1942 during Paul Brown's tenure there.

We checked at Massillon to find that a high school team in Connecticut won 60 straight games. However, since there is no central point in the United States to record long winning strings it is almost impossible to say what the record is.

AS STEUBENVILLE Big Red hasn't whipped Massillon High's Tigers since 1931, a "Beat Massillon Week" is being observed in Steubenville for tonight's game that may draw 9,000 to Harding Stadium.

Mayor Michael J. Cody issued an official proclamation this week calling for the Big Red to end the long domination of Massillon in the series. The Tigers are rated No. 1 and Big Red tied for seventh among top Ohio high school football squads.

WE ONLY did so-so last week, batting just above .500 on the predictions as the football took some funny bounces.

The way we see it tonight is East Liverpool a favorite over Bellaire St. John's. The score should be close to 28-12 with the Potters on top.

Wellsville is our choice over Wheeling Central while Warwood should get by Chester and Midland to rebound with a victory against Monaca.

In other games, Bentleyville to halt South Side, East Palestine to nip Lisbon in a tight battle, Salem rates the edge on Ambridge, Columbiana over Canfield and Minerva to beat Leetonia.

PAID TRIPS to Europe and Florida for two people and the appearance of Hillsdale, one of the top horses in racing today, are only a few of the surprises planned by Horace Wade, director of Waterford Park.

Last summer Waterford Park gave away two racing horses and a car. This fall it will be the free trips.

SALINEVILLE High School, through donations from various organizations, has refurnished its gym floor. The Senior Class of 1959 left $200 towards the expense while the athletic board donated $100 and the remaining $40 came from the school fund.

U.S. Bows In Soccer

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexico defeated the United States, 2-0, Thursday night in the first of their two amateur soccer games to decide which will get to compete in the Olympic Games in Rome next year. The second is scheduled Nov. 15 in Los Angeles.

Potters Eye Third Win In Homecoming

Cunningham And Geon May Start

Homecoming can't be a complete success without a victory by the hometeam and the Potters will attempt to make it three straight tonight when the "Fighting Irish" from Bellaire St. John's invade Patterson Field. Kickoff is set for 7:45 (DST).

It will mark the first time East Liverpool and St. John's have met on the gridiron.

ELHS-Warren Tickets Go On Sale Monday

Through a misunderstanding, the 1,733 tickets for the East Liverpool-Warren game on Oct. 16 will not go on sale until Monday at 2 p. m. at Brian's clothing store on W. 5th St. The tickets are still at the printing office in Warren and won't be ready until Saturday. Reserved seat tickets will be $1.25.

Coach Lou Venditti in a surprise move said there is a question of who will be starting at quarterback and right end.

Either Bob Mackall, the Potter's leading scorer, or Kenny Cunningham will start at quarterback while Mike Geon may get the nod over Tim Archer at right end.

If Mackall and Archer are benched tonight it will be because of some disciplinary action by Venditti.

The remainder of the lineup which started at New Philadelphia will be intact with Dave Zelch and Henry Roach at halfbacks and John Goodballet at fullback.

Ron Prince will be at the left end spot while Skip Hall and Craig Burbick are set at tackles, Jim Bise and Charlie Davidson at guards and Gary Montgomery at center.

Venditti has been "dissatisfied" with practice this week and said the Potters haven't looked sharp.

Bellaire St. John's, hit hard by injuries early in the season, will bring a 1-2 record here.

The lone victory for the Irish was in its opener over Wheeling Central, 20-13. The defeats were at the hands of Columbus Aquinas, 25-12, and last week Pittsburgh Central Catholic, 34-13.

East Liverpool's big problem tonight will be stopping the running of Rich Cavicchia, a 140-pound speedster. Cavicchia is dangerous and in the Pittsburgh Central game raced 90 yards with a kickoff.

Joining Cavicchia in the backfield will be three-year regular Dick Croucrotti who broke in as the first string quarterback when he was a freshman.

Jim Mancini, a 180-pounder, will be at fullback while Ray Belardo (135) will probably sub for the regular right halfback, Mike DiNopli.

The big gun on the Bellaire line is Bill McCreary who is also a 190-pound junior left tackle. Coach Jerry Ippoliti, at 23 one of the youngest coaches in the Ohio Valley, lost three of his biggest linemen through injuries.

Outstanding on defense for the Irish is John Decker, a 205-pounder. Decker broke his thumb two weeks ago, but can be used on defense. He was the regular offensive center before being injured.

Tigers, Chester, Midland Featured In Home Games

Wellsville, Chester and Midland will be playing before the home fans tonight in three of the top games on a slate of nine contests set for district teams.

Wellsville, fresh from its first victory of the season at Chester, entertains Wheeling Central tonight at 8 p. m. (EST). A fifth and sixth grade game will start at 6:15 prior to the varsity contest.

In other action on the local front, Chester plays host to Warwood while Midland meets its old rival Monaca.

The battle of the undefeated takes place tonight at East Palestine where a perfect season and Tri-County title hinges on the outcome.

Lisbon and East Palestine both enter the game with 3-0 records.

Wellsville with a victory, a loss and a tie will attempt to make it two straight tonight. The Tigers' opponent — Wheeling Central — will be looking for its first victory of the season. Central has lost four in a row.

Warwood also will be after victory No. 1 at Chester. In four outings Warwood has managed only one tie and have dropped three contests.

Midland jolted by the defeat to Braddock last week will attempt to regain its poise in tonight's encounter with rival Monaca.

A battle between the district's two top scorers, East Palestine's George Morris and Lisbon's Tom Brooks — is expected to develop tonight at East Palestine. Game time is 8 p. m. (EST).

In other contests, South Side, which tasted victory for the first time last week, goes to Bentleyville while Salem which has been unscored upon in four straight victories travels to Ambridge.

Canfield is at Columbiana and Minerva goes to Leetonia.

The New Cumberland - St. Anthony game at Follansbee was changed from Friday to Saturday.

Three other games are set Saturday with Beaver Local and United in a big one at United. Salineville will help Irondale celebrate its homecoming and Fairfield-Waterford travels to Springfield.

Veck Looking For Lively Trading Season In Winter

CHICAGO (AP) — The phone rang in the Comiskey Park club room shortly after the Dodgers had rapped the White Sox 9-3 to take the World Series.

Owner Bill Veck of the Sox answered.

After a pause, Veck exclaimed: "YOU lost a lot of money on this game? What about me?"

"Who am I? I'm Veck and nobody wanted to see a seventh game more than me."

"No, don't be sorry. Now we got something to shoot for next year."

And so it went.

"I think Al Lopez did the best job of managing I've ever seen," said sport-shirt Bill. "We went a lot further than I thought we could this season."

"We simply hit disaster in the series. We were beat. They just belted us out for the count in the last game."

"I think we can beat any team in baseball, if we can keep the ball in the park. But they were hitting it over our outfielders' heads."

Veck said he anticipated a lively trading season because of the new rule that eliminates waivers for a three-week period in November. This means a club in one league can deal directly with a club in another league.

"We're not going to stand still," he said. "We hope to trade as much as we can."

Dodgers Hailed As New World Champs After 9-3 Victory

Sherry Stops Sox; Newell And Northwestern Battle To 0-0 Tie

LA Chases Wynn

CHICAGO (AP)—The Los Angeles Dodgers are the world champions of baseball today.

They beat the Chicago White Sox 9-3 Thursday in the sixth game of the World Series — and they did it in Chicago's Comiskey Park.

The Dodgers' victory, behind right-hander Larry Sherry, smashed the hopes of the White Sox, which had soared when the Chicago team scored a 1-0 comeback triumph Tuesday in the Los Angeles Coliseum, returning the Series to their home ground.

The Dodgers got rid of the best in the way of pitching the Sox had to offer, chasing burly Early Wynn early and sending Dick Donovan off in close pursuit.

It was only the second world championship in 10 tries for the Dodgers, their first since shifting to Los Angeles from Brooklyn two years ago.

Both championship teams have been managed by Walter Alston, who has led the Dodgers to three pennants in his six years.

This could be the richest of all series when the record $892,365.04 player pool is split up. A full winner's share should be worth at least $10,000 a man to the Dodgers, possibly $11,000. The Sox should get from $7,000 to $7,500 each, which would be a record for a losing share.

This Dodger victory, making them the first ever to rocket from seventh place one year to the world championship, the next, is the National League's fourth in six years over the American. The AL still leads in the overall standings, however, 35-21.

The Dodgers, whose two defeats were shutouts, started ruminating against Wynn in the third in the finale when Duke Snider sent a 400-foot home run into the lower left-center-field seats with a man on.

Wynn, the first game winner at 11-0, got as far as the fourth inning in his third start of the series. The big right-hander showed quick signs of wildness. He gave way when Dodger southpaw Johnny Podres walloped an RBI double to center.

That brought in right-hander Donovan, whose brilliant relief performance in Los Angeles had saved the fifth game for the Sox. This time, he gave up a walk to Junior Gilliam, a two-run double by Charlie Neal and a two-run homer by Wally Moon.

That made it a six-run inning, the Dodgers' largest ever in a series, and led to a string of six Sox pitchers. No. 5 was Billy Pierce, the experienced little southpaw.

There is no doubting the big man of the series. At 24, Sherry proved a cool, careful right-handed reliever. He was in on each of the Dodgers' four victories.

In all, he worked 12 2-3 innings in the four games, giving up eight hits and just one run while walking but two and striking out five in the series — first ever without a complete game pitcher on either club.

The Sox, a tight defensive club that made the most of its opportunities to win its first pennant in 40 years, were unsettled by the Coliseum, where the white-shirted, three-game crowd of 277,550 provided a poor background for fielders and hitters alike.

But Manager Al Lopez figured the best way to say what beat his Sox was "Sherry and Neal. They were the difference."

Neal, the thin thumper who plays second base, led both clubs with 10 hits and batted .370. He won the second game with two home runs.

Fumbles Halt Drives By Both Teams In Mud

By BOB DUFFY
Review Sports Editor

Newell and Northwestern battled 48 minutes in the mud only to wind up with a 0-0 deadlock when the final gun went off Thursday night at Newell's Memorial Stadium.

Only a few fans braved the rain which left the gridiron a sea of mud.

Fumbles and the strategy of third down punting featured the entire contest as both teams threatened often but failed to cross the goal line.

Newell fumbled a total of eight times and lost the ball on four occasions. Meanwhile, Northwestern, which trails from Darlington, Pa., lost the ball on five of six fumbles.

The deadlock still left Newell without a victory. The Vikings have dropped four in a row and still have failed to score this season.

Coach Pete Horosko's team gave the few partisan rooters something to cheer about with 1:15 remaining in the contest.

The Vikings made their deepest penetration of the evening by driving to the Northwestern 5-yard line, but quarterback Tom Woods was hit hard and fumbled with Northwestern recovering on its own 10-yard line.

Newell made its one big bid to score after taking over following a punt on the Northwestern 29-yard line.

Dennis Lee, Newell's hard-running fullback picked up 20 yards in two carries and moved the ball to the Northwestern 9-yard line.

Woods got 4 yards to the 5, but fumbled on the next play.

A fumble also kept Northwestern from scoring in the third quarter. After a 38-yard pass play from quarterback Sonny Vosovic to Glaser, Northwestern moved to Newell's 10-yard line.

Fullback Jim Dunlap skirted right end and was heading for paydirt when he was hit near the goal line. The ball squirted into the end zone and Newell recovered for a touchdown.

The longest drive by Northwestern carried to the Newell 8-yard line in the second period, but a fumble ended the threat as Larry Hutton alertly fell on the ball for the Vikings.

Hutton was a standout on defense and recovered two fumbles. Another brilliant defensive game was turned in by tackle George Weisbeck.

The remainder of the contest was played between the two 20-yard lines. There was a total of 14 punts in the scoreless draw.

Picking up four first downs through the air, Northwestern had six for the evening while Newell moved the sticks three times.

Big Weekend Predicted On Ohio Football Scene

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—There is rugged competition on all fronts for Ohio's collegiate football teams this weekend.

Ohio State entertains Illinois in the feature of an attractive 21-game program which could produce some big upsets.

At stake is first place in the Mid-American, Ohio Conference and Mid-Ohio League. Also in jeopardy is the unsullied record of eight unbeaten, untied Buckeye teams.

At Athens, Ohio University (2-0) tangles with tough Xavier (3-1) and the Musketeers may be on the rebound after absorbing a 33-7 loss to Miami last week.

Miami and Bowling Green, both 1-0 in the rugged Mid-Am loop, get a chance to tie Ohio for the lead. The Redskins invade Kent State, a 46-0 loser to Ohio a week ago, and Bowling Green is host to Western Michigan, 1-1 in the conference.

The big one in the Ohio Conference pits Heidelberg and Akron in a tiff at Tiffin. The Student Princes, atop the state standings with a 3-0 mark, need this one to keep pace with Capital and Wooster at the head of the OC pack.

The Zips, 2-1 in loop play, must win to stay in contention.

In the Mid-Ohio, Findlay visits Defiance in the loop's top game. Both are 1-0 as is Bluffton, which

Browns May Lose Renfro Against Giants

CLEVELAND (AP)—A foot ailment may keep Ray Renfro on the sidelines when the Cleveland Browns meet the New York Giants in their home opener Sunday.

Renfro, the Browns' fleet flanker back, did not participate in Thursday's drill on defense.

A calcium deposit is believed to be causing Renfro's trouble. He was hit by the painful arch condition a few days before the season opener at Pittsburgh, but with the aid of several injections of a pain reliever he struggled through most of that game.

"I didn't realize Ray was ailing as much as he was in Pittsburgh," Coach Paul Brown said Thursday. "He seemed all right before the game and I didn't notice him limping later on."

Brown said he would start either Rich Kreitling or Frank Clarke in Renfro's place Sunday if his foot still is sore.

Kreitling, the Browns' first draft choice, was shifted to the flanking spot last week against the Chicago Cardinals. Clarke has been playing behind end Billy Howton on the right side.

Renfro said he was hopeful his foot would be all right Sunday.

"I don't want to miss that one," he said.

The Browns worked on maneuvers Thursday aimed at halting Charley Conerly's passing while still not leaving too much opportunity for the Giants' runners.

Alex Webster, Mel Triplett and Phil King give the Giants a powerful ground attack to go with Conerly's passing.

Alston Has Praise For Young Hurler

CHICAGO (AP) — The Dodgers fourth inning after a hassle with Umpire Ed Hurley, said:

"We beat those White Sox at their own game. We outmaneuvered them. We were very satisfactory. We just played better."

After shaking off the effects of having lost, the White Sox settled down and went about their business of getting home for the winter.

Manager Al Lopez called the loss "one of those things. We lost the ones we should have won. This one we were never in. We had our chances in the series, but just didn't make it."

Team members went around shaking hands with each other and wishing each other "a good winter."

Jockey, 20, Reported Critical After Spill

CLEVELAND (AP)—Richard E. Young, 20, a jockey from Carbonate, Ill., injured in a spill Thursday at Thistledown, was reported in critical condition today.

Young suffered a collarbone fracture and a kidney injury when Penn Common, his mount in the third race, fell at the first turn after running up on another horse's heels.

Sherry, the 24-year-old relief ace, was swarmed under by well-wishers and newsmen. "I had good luck, they were swinging at my pitches, I just wanted to get the batters out," were Sherry's routine answers to routine questions.

Coach Chuck Dressen, who was ejected from the game in the

Alston First To Win Flag On 2 Coasts

CHICAGO (AP) — You could never tell it by the calm manner in which he was accepting congratulations and by the serious, almost solemn look on his round face that the happiest man in the Dodgers' dressing room was Walter Alston.

The Dodgers' World Series success, capping their pennant victory, was in many ways a personal triumph for this kindly, good-natured, shy, Ohioan who, after six seasons of big league managing, finally has convinced his hard-bitten critics that he is highly capable leader.

"From a personal standpoint, this would have to be my greatest triumph, at least the most satisfying," he said slowly, choosing every word. "Winning the World Series with the Dodgers back in 1955 gave me a big thrill. At the time it was the greatest. After all, it was only my second year of managing, and it was the first world championship ever won by Brooklyn."

"But the Dodgers of '55 were a great team. They were more or less, expected to win. We won 20 of our first 22 games and won the pennant by some 13½ games. I don't want to take anything away from either of the teams but I think this team has given me a greater kick."

"After all, it wasn't expected

Former Mill Aide Promoted

Walter E. Gregg, former manager of the Titanium Division at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. has been promoted to director of the company's Technology Department, it was announced at Pittsburgh.

Gregg will continue in his present position with Crucible as director of the Technical Development Division at Pittsburgh. He succeeds Maurice J. Day, former vice president of technology, who has been moved into the newly created post of vice president of commercial expansion of sales organization.

Day will have full responsibility for sales management. George W. Stum, vice president of sales, continues in that position with executive responsibility for trade and commercial relations and sales policy planning and promotion.

Gregg started in 1936 with the Remington Arms Co., Inc., in Bridgeport, Conn. and in 1945, he became a member of the DuPont Industrial Engineering Department, specializing in market development and product evaluation.

Gregg worked with the titanium development program at Remington in 1949 and the following year was appointed assistant treasurer and manager of services for Rem-Cru Titanium Inc., then jointly owned by Remington Arms and Crucible at Midland.

Three years later, he was appointed assistant director of operations for Rem-Cru and was elected vice president and assistant general manager in 1955.

Gregg was named works manager when Crucible acquired full ownership of Rem-Cru and the plant became incorporated with Crucible as the company's Titanium Division. In 1953, he was transferred to general offices in Pittsburgh as director of technical development.

Railroads Held Responsible For Warning Systems

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Railroads have to provide grade-crossing warning systems, not the state or county governments, Atty. Gen. Mark McElroy ruled Thursday.

The opinion was directed to Highway Director Everett S. Preston.

Preston also was informed that local governments could not "enter into agreements" with railroads to place warning systems.

If federal funds are used, however, the Ohio Highway Department can provide the warning system, but such systems must be approved by the appropriate federal agency.

Statutes mentioned by McElroy do not prevent local governments from erecting warning signs near rail crossings, but these signs are not to be confused with the more elaborate warning systems.

No Doctrinal Instruction

Department Of Education Clears School Of Charges

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Four Ohio Department of Education officials report they found nothing at the Kalida Elementary School in Putnam County to substantiate a charge that all students there are being taught Roman Catholic doctrine.

E. E. Holt, Ohio superintendent of public instruction, released a report Thursday that indicates there is now no evidence of doctrinal instruction or sectarianism at the Kalida school, although the school is taught primarily by Catholic nuns.

The investigation was ordered after approximately 20 parents complained that their children were being taught religious doctrine in a school operated as a public institution.

Holt reported the school is owned by St. Michael's Catholic Church in Kalida and rented to the county board of education for $3,100 per year. Almost 90 percent of the 13 on the teaching staff are nuns.

The report states that opening exercises which formerly consisted of prayer and the sign of the cross have been discontinued.

U.N. Seeking Clarification On Mr. K Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—U.N. delegates looked to the Soviet Union today to clarify whether Premier Nikita Khrushchev's proposal for total disarmament will prove more than a Utopian dream.

The four investigators, who visited the school Oct. 2, found that five textbooks considered by some officials as objectionable and "slanted" in favor of the Catholic church have been replaced by new approved books.

The report also indicates the teachers at Kalida are well qualified and competent and that student morale is excellent.

The investigation was requested by the Ohio Board of Education, which heard the complaint of the parents.

The community is predominantly Catholic, according to the report. Last year only six non-Catholics attended the school. Others went to a provisional school in the local high school building.

Later the provisional elementary school was closed, because it did not meet certain standards. This year the students who went there were reassigned to the church-owned public school.

Wilmington College Returns U.S. Check On Student Loans

WASHINGTON (AP)—Wilmington College in Ohio has returned a $7,345 government check for student tuition loans. The school said it doesn't want the money because applicants must sign anticommunist affidavits.

The decision, disclosed today by the Office of Education in response to a reporter's query, was set forth in a letter from Dr. W. Brooke Morgan of the college.

Morgan wrote Lawrence G. Derthick, commissioner of the Office of Education, that his school will take loan funds only if the non-subversive requirement is repealed.

Many educators and members of Congress, as well as the Eisenhower Administration, also want it repealed. They say it is distasteful and insulting to require students to swear they aren't subversive to get loans.

Defenders of the provisions say anyone borrowing federal money for tuition should be glad to proclaim his loyalty to his country.

Jobless Dips In 2 Counties

CLEVELAND (AP)—A survey just completed by the Ohio State Employment Service shows that unemployment in Cuyahoga and Lake counties has dropped to the level preceding the business recession which started in the summer of 1957.

The number of jobless as of Sept. 15 was estimated at 22,000, or the same in July, 1957. After reaching a peak of 72,000 in May, 1958, unemployment in the two counties has been dropping gradually ever since, except for a month of seasonal layoffs last January following the holidays.

The survey shows total employment in the two-county area at an estimated 677,500, a drop of 16,100 in the last two months. The all-time peak was during the Korean war when 731,000 persons were employed.

Donald Smith, Cleveland area manager for the employment service, said the decline during the past two months is accounted for by the striking steelworkers and employees laid off in other industries as a result of the steel strike.

"We're up 1,700 over a year ago despite the strike," he said.

The survey shows that average weekly earnings of production workers in manufacturing plants, excluding the struck steel mills, declined from $106.24 in July to $104.24 in August.

Less U.S. Money

West Virginia Studies What Road Work To Cut

CHARLESTON (AP)—What work will the State Road Commission cut out because it is getting much less federal money this fiscal year than last? That's the question now.

The amount of federal money, made known yesterday, runs to almost nine million dollars less for the Interstate program in the state. The Commerce Department announced an allotment of $22,074,000 for the program, compared with $31,000,000 for 1958-59. The allotment for primary, secondary and urban work was little changed at $9,460,000.

The Commerce Department made a general cut in Interstate allotments Secretary Frederick H. Mueller said this was done to reserve the pay-as-you-go principle. Less money than once was anticipated became available for federal highway work when Congress passed a 1 cent instead of a 1 1/2 cent gasoline tax increase.

The Road Commission was unable to say immediately what the consequences would be in terms of projects in West Virginia. A spokesman explained that official notification had not even arrived. "We'll have to find out first what the federal government's thinking is before we decide what we can do," he said.

Some clarification might come today, when the notification is expected from Washington.

STEELWORKERS:

This is the Companies' 15c Offer! Your Union Turned it Down

IN RESPONSE to President Eisenhower's urgent request for an immediate non-inflationary settlement through the voluntary processes of free collective bargaining, the Steel Companies have done two things:

First, they have made a specific, 15-cents-an-hour package offer providing for increased wages and benefits over the period of a two-year agreement.

Second, they have scaled down to an irreducible minimum their requests for improvements in contract language, adhering only to those changes that would clearly operate in the long-range interests of the steelworkers themselves.

Details of the Offer

Specifically, the Companies offered to improve the pension, insurance, and supplemental unemployment benefit programs in the first year of a two-year agreement, and to increase wage rates at the beginning of the second year by amounts ranging from 6 cents for the lowest job class to 12 cents for the highest job class—the total package to increase the Companies' employment costs by 15 cents per man-hour worked, or about 2 percent per year of total employment costs which, before the strike, amounted to $3.70 per hour.

As a part of this offer to increase wages and benefits, the Companies called upon the Union to join in working out mutually satisfactory amendments to the prior basic labor agreements in four general areas. The purpose of these amendments would be:

1. To continue payment of the 17-cents-per-hour cost-of-living adjustment which was in effect at the expiration of the prior labor agreements; but to eliminate provisions for future changes either up or down.
2. To enable management to take reasonable steps to eliminate waste and to improve efficiency; but to protect and preserve the right of employees to resort to grievance and arbitration procedure under which management would be required to justify fully the reasonableness of its actions.
3. To permit flexibility in the scheduling of work to conform reasonably with the requirements of the business.
4. To deter wildcat strikes by permitting the discharge of any employee engaging in such action and by clarifying the responsibility of local Unions in respect to wildcat strikes occurring within their jurisdiction.

Companies' Offer Flexible

In the bargaining sessions, the Companies pointed out that the offer of a two-year 15-cents-an-hour package of improved benefits and wages was purposely stated in terms which would provide maximum flexibility in arriving at the distribution of this sum as between wages and benefits, so as to give the greatest possible satisfaction to the employees. It was also pointed out that the Companies were entirely willing to consider alternate benefits should the immediate effect of improved insurance benefits upon take-home pay present problems that would preclude the arrival at a settlement of the strike.

They also pointed out that this offer to increase employment costs by 2 percent per year represents the maximum that can be undertaken at this time without resulting in an inflationary increase in production costs.

Union Demands More Inflation

The Union leaders on the other hand persist in their demands for highly inflationary wage and benefit increases; and proposed a settlement that would call for employment cost increases that could amount to 60 or more cents per hour over a three-year period. The difference between the 20 or more cents an hour increased cost per year of the Union's proposal and the 7½ cent annual increased cost of the Companies' offer would be sheer inflation and must be recognized as such.

Any such increase in steelmaking costs would further injure the competitive position of the American steel industry in markets both at home and abroad, and would endanger the job security of American steelworkers. Similarly any failure on the part of the Union to join in writing an agreement which will provide reasonably for the more efficient operation of the mills can only work to the disadvantage of the members of the Union and of the American people as a whole.

Union Leaders Prolong Deadlock

The Union's rejection of the Companies' offer—coming as it does on the heels of President Eisenhower's appeal for a voluntary, non-inflationary settlement, clearly reveals the Union leadership's responsibility for the continuing deadlock.

Throughout the negotiations the Union leaders have insisted upon an inflationary, something-for-nothing settlement. They have offered nothing whatever in exchange for the increased wages and benefits they seek. They have resisted every effort to provide for increased efficiency of operations through improvement in the language of the former contracts. They have insisted that their members shall continue, year after year, to take more out of the business than they put into the business.

The Companies, on the other hand, have—from the outset of the negotiations—had one consistent objective: To obtain a settlement that would not result in an increase in their production costs over the term of the new agreement. That is the only kind of settlement that would not have serious inflationary consequences.

It is the only kind of settlement that would help preserve for the steelworkers, and for every American, the value of their earnings, savings and pensions; and would enable the Companies to compete more effectively with foreign steel and other competing materials, thus increasing output and employment.

It is the only kind of settlement that would serve the best interests of the entire nation.

The Steel Companies' Position

To sum up the situation as it stands today, therefore, the Companies want to make their position crystal clear:

They did not—and do not—want a shutdown of their operations.

They do not want their employees to lose wages and employment because of a continued shutdown.

They have not sought government intervention in any form; but instead have exhausted every effort to secure a voluntary settlement that would be in the best interest of all.

They are not trying to undermine or destroy the Union.

They do not seek to take away the basic rights of any employee.

They are not asking for the arbitrary right to change local work practices without employee recourse to grievance procedure and arbitration.

They do want to make a reasonable settlement and to live with the Union and its members in peace and harmony.

But they are not willing to buy peace at the price of making agreements which will continue to promote inflation and which will prevent them from taking reasonable steps to improve the efficiency of their businesses.

So long as the Union insists on wage and benefit increases of inflationary proportions, and refuses to deal reasonably with the problems arising out of some of the contract provisions, no agreement will be possible.

One wonders when, if ever, the Union leaders will recognize that customers, the stockholders and the public generally, as well as the steelworkers, are entitled to fair treatment.
